| A) ALBany medical center      | July 2016 to October 2016 |
| b) Ossackie R.M.U.            | October 2016 to June 2019 |
| c) Nassau County Facility Rmu | June 2019 to June 2021    |

The plaintiff argues that as a state inmate, he has no authority or choice to be treated by the defendants post injury (July 27, 2016). As a ward of the N.Y.S.D.O.C.C.S. this decision of where the plaintiff is treated or transferred belongs solely to the N.Y.S.D.O.C.C.S. department of movement and control based out of Harriman campus Albany, Not the Plaintiff's.

9) The plaintiff disagrees with the respondent's interpretation of the continuous treatment doctrine. When the plaintiff was admitted to Albany medical center on July 27, 2016 to have emergency surgery. The plaintiff post-surgery was left on life support (ventilator). July 2016 to September 2016. At this time the plaintiff was mentally incompetent to make any/all including but not limited to medical decisions. therefore; Albany medical center required the plaintiff's Health proxy Rita Goodman (sister) not only sign to give the plaintiff a tracheotomy due to no longer being able to sustain a ventilator. In addition, Rita Goodman after a consultation with the plaintiff's primary Doctor Sharon Samuels, was asked to sign a D.N.R order (Do Not Resuscitate) this decision needed to be made and since the plaintiff was physically and mentally incapable due to being actively on life support. And receiving comfort care in the form of a morphine + Fentanyl drip to allow the plaintiff to pass away in peace and out of pain. The plaintiff received around the clock care for a total of 59 days in intensive care. this time alone should afford the plaintiff the ability to continue on. And not be time barred. If this is not sufficient in the eyes of the Attorney general's office or this Court, please take into account that the plaintiff was isolated from September 24 2016 at Albany Medical Center to October 19 2016 when the plaintiff was transferred to Coxsackie Corr. Facility Regional medical unit. on October 19, 2016 where again the plaintiff was isolated with a contagious upper respiratory infection (Klebsella). This isolation lasted for over an additional 180 days, where again Rita Goodman was the plaintiff's decision maker. The plaintiff's requests that this Court allow the please grant the widest margin in the argument of being time barred. Due to the plaintiff being in I.C.U. on a ventilator, then isolated with Klebsella, bed ridden, unable to walk, unable to access law library. This must constitute the continuous treatment doctrine which shows the plaintiff's time could not have started on the actual date of the instant injury (July 27, 2016)

10) the plaintiff contends this extensive time period of over 230 days where the plaintiff was physically and mentally incapacitated due to the injuries caused by these defendant's should clearly establish the required time extension needed to cover the 1 month 16 days the respondent claims the plaintiff was time barred by.

11) The plaintiff argues that the cases supplied by the respondents are all civilian plaintiffs these plaintiffs have the open choice to go back to the original doctor or seek a second opinion. IN this case the plaintiff can not enjoy the privilege of choice due to being incarcerated. IN this case the plaintiff could not go back to Clinton Correctional facility to F.H.S.D Doctor Vonda Johnson, Doctor Richard Adams or Nurse Practitioner Catherine Bushy-Calley even if he infect wanted to. This option is simply not plausible.

12) It is the plaintiff's contention that due to the defendants actions, the plaintiff would not have received the life-threatening injuries. IN addition the plaintiff would not have been continuously hospitalized for almost five years. Nor would have the plaintiff suffered multiple past surgical emergency procedures, received an undescrivable amount of daily pain + suffering. The plaintiff's injuries to date have not been resolved and/or finalized. The plaintiff is still currently receiving around the clock medical care for the original injuries suffered from the defendants actions.

13) The plaintiff is currently in need of multiple additional surgical procedures.

- A) Bowel reduction
- B) fistula ectomy
- C) Hernia repair

IN addition to these procedures the plaintiff will need an unknown amount of additional medical care for the rest of his life. Due to the obvious actions of these defendant's the plaintiff therefore request compensation in the amount of $ 15,000,000.00 (fifteen million dollars) to cover all future medical surgical procedures needed. IN addition the plaintiff seeks this monetary compensation for all past, present and future pain and suffering

14) IN conclusion, for the reasons stated above the the respondents request for the plaintiff's claim to be dismissed as untimely under the applicable statute of limitations should be denied.

Respectfully,
Mark Orlan
